One of the most disastrous thunder

A MEXICAN WAR HORROR

This picture tells better than words what the ravages of pillage and plunder have meant to the natives of war-ridden Mexico. This is the remnant of a Mexican family fleeing for their lives, driven by blood and lust, and armed bandits and revolutionists into a strange land where they hoped to find momentary safety and protection. It is the poor and poorer class that suffers most.

Driven into exile with only a few bundles in their arms, 600 of these pitiful refugees dashed madly across the border into the United States recently, only to be taken prisoners of war by Uncle Sam's troops for breaking the neutrality law. They are confined at Fort Rosecrans, San Diego, Cal.

storms that ever passed over here, passed last Saturday evening.

The wind blew down many trees, and blew most of the corn down. The lightning struck many trees and many telephone poles, and some barns. The lightning struck a barn belonging to George Roush, the stroke struck about the center of the roof shivering two rafters to splinters and tearing many shingles off the barn; then it divided and came down to the ground, tearing a great deal of the siding off each end of the barn and the two sides were splintered some. At the east end of the barn on the outside there were four cattle killed. All the horses were in the barn and seemed uninjured.

J. H. Lydick and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Lydick attended the Horse-shoers' picnic Saturday at Hudson lake.

Aunt Sally's Advice to Beauty Seekers

K. C. F. says: "My skin becomes so greasy every summer, and this so attracts dust and dirt that I have an awful time keeping my face clean looking. Can you suggest anything?" The method mentioned in reply to Elsie will overcome this condition.

D. N. A. writes: "How can I get rid of crow's feet and wrinkles about the mouth corners?" Use a wash lotion prepared by dissolving 1 oz. powdered salicylic acid in 12 pt. witch hazel. This tightens the skin, tending to disperse wrinkles, and its tonic effect is more than temporary.

Elsie says: "My freckles are worse than ever this year, made doubly conspicuous by a pallid complexion. Is there any cure?" Ask your druggist for an ounce of mercurized wax, apply lightly like cold cream, removing in the morning with warm water. As the wax gradually and harmlessly absorbs the affected cuticle, not only will the freckles vanish, but the new and younger skin which appears will have a healthy color. Probably you will need to continue treatment a week or more.—Woman's Realm.—Advertisement.

"THE LATE MR. JONES."

Clarence Shuzles, courts a good-looking widow, who has resolved never to marry any man unless he is fully the equal of her late husband. Clarence shows his undying devotion to the lady. After an exciting encounter with Master Jones, the widow's young hopeful, Clarence proves that he has at least one point in common with the late Mr. Jones. He wins the widow and gives his prospective stepson the spanking he deserves, after falling into a rain barrel and spilling a new suit of clothes. At the American theater Wednesday and Thursday.

"BEAUTY AND THE BEAST"

Three reels of film are utilized in telling the old story of "Beauty and the Beast," which has been developed into a very artistic production. The actress who plays the role of the Beauty plays her part with unusual charm and the wicked prince, whose cruelties caused a curse to fall upon him through which he is turned into a beast, is cleverly rendered. Scenes of unusual beauty have been photographed in this picture, and will be shown at the Surprise theater today.
